

My Recipe for Success

Counterparts

- be a resource for all chapter S'ganit
- create a detailed release
- plan at least one counterpart sleep over
- monthly calls to each chapter S'ganit
- hold at least two in person counterpart meetings per semester
- help my counterparts analyze the specific programming needs of their chapters and help them come up with helpful and attainable goals

The 6 Folds: Sisterhood, Creativity, Recreation, Community Service, Social Action, Jewish Heritage

- make a switch from pushing 6 fold programming for the sake of 6 fold programming to encouraging the use of just a few folds really really meaningfully
- for the first six months of the term highlight one fold per month and send out a release detailing how to utilize that specific fold
 - make these releases available to the entire council, not just S'ganit
 - include sample program outlines
- recognize chapter programs that exceptionally utilize these folds

Personal Goals

- be a role model for all BBGs
- work closely and cooperatively with 66/86 and my co
- fulfill all promises and deadlines to the best of my ability
- be open to trying new things, taking risks, and working outside of my comfort zone
- maintain a close relationship with my liaison chapter through biweekly emails and attending at least two events/meetings per semester
- never forget where it all started: my home and my heart Shorashim BBG #2493 #roots

Council Programming

LTI

- plan a fun and engaging leadership convention
- promote registration creatively and effectively through all forms of social media
- find interesting and entertaining guests/speakers that are relatable and beneficial to participants
- balance educational and recreational programs

Programming Party

- create an organized and open environment for calendaring
- provide all in attendance with a calendar containing black out dates, council events, and BBYO connect programs
- plan an icebreaker that encourages chapter presidents and S'ganim to work with new people

Sundays at the J

- allow chapters to apply for the opportunity to plan and facilitate these events
- ensure a variety of high quality programs
- schedule on weekends that are as convenient as possible

Overall Ideas

- council wide programs benefitting our council Stand up! cause (ex.. council wide effort to raise money- car wash, bake sale, restaurant nights, garage sales etc. as well as council wide education programs to increase passion and awareness)
- council wide recreational events once a semester (Ex. iceskating or movie night.)

General Goals and Ideas

- educate about back pocket programming and ensure that counterparts are armed with several easy to facilitate ideas
- make programming resources available to everyone in Atlanta council, not just the S'ganim
- promote MBA and BBG, requiring each chapter to incorporate these initiatives into programming at least once per semester
- work with BBG chair to ensure a variety of athletic and MBA programs at conventions and other council events
- promote the education of AZA folds so that BBG chapters can be better prepared to program with alephs
- work closely with the Dixie council S'ganit to establish cohesive programming throughout the region

Connecting AC to the International Order

- stay in contact with the 70th International S'ganit
- reach out to other Sganim from around the order to share ideas, learn from each other, and create a strong network

Educational Framework: Identify, connect, improve

- ensure that S'ganit are aware of and understand the outcomes of the framework so they can bring it back to their chapters

Priorities: commit to Israel, grow our movement, expand Stand up, act globally impact locally and PROGRAM EXCELLENCE!

- make our movement's priorities relevant through programming at council events
- introduce these international priorities to the council and then encourage AC to come up with priorities of their own on both the chapter and council level.

Goals and Ideas

My Sister B'nai Brith Girls,

Programs are where BBYO happens.

They set the stage for inspiration, motivation, and conversation. Think about that first program that got you hooked on this amazing movement.

Every program has the potential to light someone's BBG flame and every girl has the potential to plan that program.

Programming is no longer a privilege reserved for one person on board; programming is for everyone. Phrases like "program excellence" and "educational framework" mean nothing unless they are made relevant and accessible to every single B'nai Brith Girl. I believe that each and every one of you has the power and ability to create something amazing.

I can't wait to see what we can do together!!

Forever and always
