

To My Brother Alephs

Two and half years ago, I was inducted into Louis D. Brandeis AZA #932 by my brother Ethan Galanter, who was Moreh at the time. Although the passion for the Aleph Zadik Aleph was quickly ignited I wasn't sure what my time in NTO and Brandeis would entail.

After serving on three executive boards, attending CLTC 7 2011, and watching my brother elected to the 27th regional board, I realized that my whole time inside this amazing order was built around communications. From knowing important information about projects and fundraisers, to knowing which summer program I wanted to attend.

Knowing communication was this important to a chapter and region, it prompted me to run for both of the communication based positions in LDB. During these terms I realized that although communication through our region and individual chapters is successful, it can always improve. The Mazkirim and I will work to improve inter-chapter and inter-regional communications because communication is the basic foundation to successful programming, fundraising, retaining members and all chapter functions.

This is why, communication will be a basis for my whole term as Aleph Regional Mazkir. Throughout the term I will educate and reeducate Mazkirim on communication and how to be successful in everything they do as a Mazkir.

Fraternally submitted with undying love for, North Texas Oklahoma Region #74 and Louis D. Brandeis #932,

I remain,

Goals For My Term

Personalized Contact:

Term by term, NTO becomes more technically advanced. Utilizing social media sites like Twitter, Facebook and Instagram. Although this isn't a bad thing, it defaces the value of brotherhood, fraternity, and personal contact between fellow alephs. If elected I would get back to the roots and make personal contact between alephs a bigger priority. Personal contact would include; more phone calls to individuals, more Facebook messages, and individual text messages. This will allow NTO to increase brotherhood, attendance, membership and retention.

Summer Program Promotions:

For most alephs the fiery passion for the Aleph Zadik Aleph is ignited at summer programs. Here Alephs learn about AZA, meet fellow Alephs and bond with Alephs from their region. All the factors previously stated, make summer programs one of many influential aspects in the success of our region. Although NTO sends an extraordinary number of alephs to summer programs each year, I say we dream big, and raise expectations, by promoting using personal contact and social media sites to raise the bar to a new level.

Mazkir Meetings:

Monthly meetings with each Mazkirim would be the foundation to assisting each Aleph in their pursuit of successful communications. Here we would discuss; how to make and be effective with calling trees, new and innovative Corro ideas, meeting notes and social media intervention. These meetings would be very involved and the foundation to a successful term.

Regional Calendar:

Throughout our region we diffuse information constantly, and this information could be the difference in the success of a chapter. To display the information well in advance and get the message out faster, the Second Mazkirim and I would set up a group calendar, which each chapter can access, so they can display all chapter functions to our region.

Increased Contact With All Areas:

Places with Alephs like Tulsa, Fort Worth, McKinney and Frisco have been pushed out of the loop and no matter the distance, need to be reunited with NTO. Mazkirim will make a concerted efforts to make this goal a reality, helping the Morim communicate to extend the recruiting process to all areas.
