“Money never starts an idea. It is always the idea that starts the money.” -- Owen

My Sister B'nai Brith Girls,

I once heard, "Money can't buy friends." I agree with this. However, without money in our chapter bank account, we cannot have the best programs possible, which attract new members and retain old members, so friendships will form and flourish, leading to more memories made, BK remaining prosperous, and this cycle repeating. Additionally, larger funds will open a whole new world of opportunity for BK that can take our chapter to a whole new state of excellence throughout BBYO.

Now, how do we increase these funds? Along with bake sales and restaurant nights, we will have many additional fundraisers including candy-grams for Valentine's Day, a Car Wash, and a Mother/Daughter Brunch. I will work with the other board members so that these potentially fun-filled fundraisers will incorporate the meaning of BBG, all six folds, and not only making money. They will be planned ahead of time to ensure they run smoothly and will be profitable.

If elected as your spring term 2010 Gizborit, we will put the fun in fundraising. We will work together to make this term the most productive, memorable term. I will do my best for BK if you give me the opportunity to serve on board. And with that, I recommend each of you stop wishing upon the stars, and start making a difference by voicing your ideas, as I hope to do if elected.

With Undying Love for, black and yellow, spring term 2010, and Beth Kadima BBG #639, I remain,

Sarah Harari
