There's so much I can do!

I am
though only one

My sister B'nai Brith Girl,

They say that Rome wasn't built in a day. Well, BBYO didn't become the worlds largest pluralistic Jewish youth movement overnight, either. This wonderful organization in which we are a part is an accumulation of traditions that have been passed down l'dor v'dor. The inspiration and memories created in BBG all stem from our programming, and therefore we must ensure that it continues to be innovative, engaging, and empowering. If elected as your S'ganit, I will follow the paths of my predecessors as well as pave new ones for future BBGs.

Submitted with undying love for T'sahal BBYO #5312, Central Council, GJHRR, CLTC 7 2010, ILTC 2011, and the past, present, and future of BBG,

I forever remain
Alyssa Rachel Hartstein

Forever a damn proud B'nai Brith Girl

Alyssa Rachel Hartstein
Candidate for the 2012-2013 Central Council S'ganit

Goals and Ideas

International Incorporation

- Each chapter must hold at least one program about summer experiences
- Bring BBGG (B'nai B'rith Girls Games) to the council
- Keep in contact with the international S'ganit

Kickoff Dance

- The biggest one yet!
- Possibly involve eighth graders
- Reach out to teens from new areas

Council Board

- Constant communication with the N'siah and Judi
- Work with the Shlichah, since she's responsible for three of the folds

Counterparts

- Implement monthly conference calls with all counterparts
- Weekly communication, either via phone or email
- Detailed releases with programming ideas
- Facebook group for counterparts to share ideas with each other Google Docs surveys incorporated for chapter members to fill out after programs to acknowledge strengths and weaknesses
- Create chapter programming committees to help the S'ganit and increase leadership opportunities
