Programming and Counterparts.” -Joan Baez

As Regional S'gan, my priority first and foremost is to help my chapter counterparts effectively develop programs that will excite the chapter and get more than the regulars coming back. I'd like to see programming be at the center of what excites members about their chapters and about the region to strengthen the brotherhood and keep people involved. To do this, I will work with my counterparts to make sure they understand their position and know I will be supporting everything they do. I will start this at B'yachad by making sure to learn about each S'gan and what he needs to make his chapter programming successful. Then, throughout the year, I will regularly communicate with my counterparts to provide programming ideas and re-direct their programming to help them reach their specific chapter goals.

 -Created, set up, and ran our annual Purim Carnival fundraiser

-Created and helped run family potluck dinner and Havdalah for the chapter

My Brother Alephs,

Our brotherhood--the friendships, the fun, and the opportunity for leadership and service--is extraordinary and is such a valued part of our lives. Nowhere other than in AZA and BBYO do I feel more myself and more at home than when with all of you. A big part of that is because past S'ganim have developed the programming that serves to bond us as a brotherhood and keep us coming back again and again. As S'gan, it is my pledge to continue strengthening our brotherhood through programming that meets your needs and interests, building the bonds of brotherhood one program at a time.

Fraternally Submitted,

Aleph Paul Samberg

Conventions:

B'yachad: B'Yachad is the training camp to help propel CVR to a successful 2017-2018 season. During this time, I will provide my chapter counterparts with the necessary tools to be successful in their chapters. Also, I will make sure they all know I'm there whenever they need help.

Fall: Fall Convention is the most anticipated, spirited start to BBYO CVR's programming year. Chapters working together to show their spirit and inter-chapter competition are the highlight of the weekend. As Regional S'gan, I will make sure that the programming involves everyone: the loud and the quiet, the athletic and the studious, the new AITs and the seniors who've seen it all, and I will make sure the gavel, cup, and trophy go home at the end of the weekend with the most deserving chapters.

Kallah: Kallah is a very brotherhood and speaker oriented convention. For these reasons, I will help provide an induction ceremony like no other, leaving inductees with an experience to remember and future inductees with a desire to experience the same when they're inducted. Also, I will work to contact and bring in engaging speakers from various topics.

Spring: Spring convention is the culmination of the year. As it's the seniors' last convention, I will work diligently to make sure it is one for them to cherish for the rest of their lives. Also, for the underclassmen and newer members, I will make sure they go home with an experience that motivates them for the upcoming years.

Positions:

Godol: As S'gan, I would play the best man to the region's leader. I'd be there to step in when he needs help both on and behind the scene. Also, I'd make sure he knows every detail about what is going on in the programming front.

Moreh: As well as being responsible for recruiting members, the Moreh also is charged with teaching AITs through education and programming. My role on the brotherhood steering committee for 2017 Kallah and my extraordinary success in chapter recruitment over the last two years, I am more than capable of assisting the Moreh in whatever way he needs.

Mazkir: With an interest in pursuing a career in journalism and my regular (but responsible) use of multiple social media platforms, I can support the Mazkir in getting well written information out to the region and to community members interested in the region's events and successes via social media, local publications, emails, and other forms of communication.

“A goal without a plan is just a wish.”-

Shaliach: Being NoPo's chapter Shaliach last year, I have the experience to help the regional Shaliach create and run meaningful services and help him support chapter Shaliach in running engaging Jewish holiday programming.

Gizbor: Having created a two time shuk sellout and contributed other shuk ideas, I can confidently support the regional Gizbor's effort to generate ideas for and create regional shuk items. Also, I will be able to help him push our annual Text-A-Thon as well as provide ideas for additional fundraisers.

Ozer: I look forward to working with the Ozer in incorporating a community service aspect within regional events as well as programs within each chapter. Also, I will be present to help him coordinate AZAA and Beau if needed.
