

Aleph Eli Pisk

Running and aspiring to be your Chapter Aleph Moreh for this next term

Qualifications:

- Big role in Science Olympiad, helping do science based activities while connecting and bonding, as a result making friends and improved social skills.
- Head of Peer Mentors, a group that helps acclimate students at Welsh Valley Middle School.
- Volunteer at Jewish Relief Agency (JRA) helping Jewish people in need, increasing social skills with all ages, teenagers included.
- 100% on the job.
- Dedicated, hard-working, kind.
- Creative, unique, and inspiring.
- Always positive, no pessimism ever.
- Motivated.

Plans:

- Make a brotherhood committee:
Making a brotherhood committee will strengthen the bonding of the chapter and will help the two r's, recruitment and retention.

● Nudging a prospective member:

Calling and emailing prospective members to convince them to join. Call them until they say no.

● Going to synagogues to recruit members:

Showing them the positive effects of AZA and the benefits of joining BBYO. Showing them the chapters good qualities and the advisor talking and reassuring to parents the goodness of BBYO.

● More multi-chapter events:

More events with chapters such as West Chester, Kehilah, and our sister, Kol Echad are needed to show that we talk and connect with other chapters. We need to represent BBYO in a good way to prospective members.

● More quality events:

We need quality programming to survive. In order to do this, we need to be organized and if there is downtime in the program, have the downtime scheduled ahead of time. For example, a bowling night would appeal to majority of people. More sports like and holiday nights, dancing and food events would be necessary to chapter survival.

● More events in general:

We have a lot of weeks sitting empty on the calendar due to reasons such as exams and other business. During the fall and winter, there are 4 empty months where programming could greatly increase.
